The XL Difference Beautiful. Robust. Premium.

Supplying over half a million doors to merchants and retailers each year takes dedication and experience. It also requires significant investment in infrastructure as well as new product development.

Our new, 140,000 sq ft dedicated warehouse, with its state of the art paint line and finishing facility, underpins our position as a market leader in the supply of premium quality timber doors. No other supplier can boast a wider range, with over 70 styles in various sizes. From oak and walnut, to pine, white primed and painted, with continuity of stock guaranteed.

GENUINE HAND MATCHED OAK VENEERS, LIPPINGS, AND MOULDING FOR GREATER COLOUR CONSISTENCY

DEEP U-GROOVE DESIGN WITH REAL OAK INLAYS

Premium quality – because detail matters

Our vast experience of global sourcing and distribution ensures the products we supply are the best in their class.

Often it's the finer details that make all the difference and our product managers and designers are expert at ensuring products meet our customers' exacting standards. For example: our doors only use book matched, real oak veneers on the styles, rails, mullions and panels. There are no laminations here. Real aluminium inlays are used on selected ranges to complement stunning real wood finishes. Lippings and raised mouldings are also made from solid oak and the grooves in XL doors are the deepest you'll find anywhere, adding true depth and decoration to otherwise flat surfaces to guarantee a premium quality end product.

The XL difference – more than skin deep

Many of our products have been assessed by independent testing organisations to ensure they can withstand the rigours of everyday life. Safety is also at the forefront of product specification so our fire doors only use cores made from XXXXXXXX, not particleboard to ensure they meet the most stringent certification. We call it the 'XL difference' and this is further backed up by the comprehensive guarantees we provide.

By the time an XL door reaches the merchant or retailer, it will have gone through our quality management system which is BSI accredited ISO 9001. This provides added peace of mind for our customers and ensures each door supplied has been manufactured to our exacting standards. When you compare our products to the competition, that's when you'll really notice the XL difference.

In-house paint lines for the perfect finish

With designers and architects as well as end users demanding more and more innovative designs, aesthetics are just as important as the construction and function. Our in-house finishing line allows us to offer painted doors in any shade as well as match colours to existing schemes. Oak stains in smooth and grain finishes can also be produced and when complemented with contemporary ironmongery from our wide range can turn an already beautiful door into something truly exceptional.

More than just doors

Our customer service teams are dedicated to ensuring our relationships are long term and are backed by added value services such as a bespoke service for non-standard sized doors and fire doors. All our ranges are beautifully packaged, suitable for home delivery so you know you will be receiving a premium product, manufactured to exacting standards – in fact we guarantee it.

REAL OAK MULLIONS

REAL ALUMINIUM INLAYS

The XL Difference

Natural. Responsible. Sustainable.

Sometimes only real wood will do. It's just so versatile and with the right finish can turn something ordinary into something extraordinary.

It's a precious natural resource and with it comes responsibility that requires careful management to ensure it's sustainable. At XL we're committed to caring for our surroundings and over 95% of our products are certified to FSC® or PEFC™ standards. This is set to increase each year.

We work closely with our manufacturing partners so our customers can rest assured that when they purchase one of our doors it's been manufactured following responsible forestry practices. Our systems enable us to trace the wood in all our products back to its point of origin. In addition, ISO 14001 and ISO 9001 accreditation ensures our management systems are designed in conjunction with environmental considerations.

Look out for the FSC® and PEFC™ logos for certified products.

Larger stock – increased availability

Our new 140,000 sq ft warehouse, located just off the M62 Motorway, houses one of the largest stockholdings of timber doors in the UK, which means increased availability of some of our more popular product lines. In addition, it also houses our new state of the art paint-line and finishing facility – allowing us to custom finish doors to your exacting requirements.

It's further evidence of our commitment to the environment and has been designed with safety, efficiency and employee welfare first.

Our fleet of electric forklifts creates an almost silent environment with cleaner energy without compromising on productivity.

Our environment matters, not only to us but to our trade and retail partners and to their customers too. Our ultimate aim is to become fully carbon neutral in the not too distant future.
